

Bill,

Attached is a photo I took yesterday of Trey Hardee, who right now is the #1 Decathlete in the country. He is also an Olympic medal winner. I was fortunate to have him at my clinic to use the hyperbaric chamber yesterday and today before the National Championships here in Eugene today and all weekend. He signed the photo this morning; he really likes what the chamber is doing for him.

Yesterday I also worked with Bryan Clay, who is considered the "World's Greatest Athlete". He won the Gold Medal in the Decathlon, the toughest event in the Olympics.

This morning, Walter Dix was here, he won 2 Bronze medals in Beijing at the last Olympics. He used the chamber this morning and is coming back to use it again before the "Finals" tonight for the 100 meter sprint. He is in 2nd place at this point, we'll see if the oxygen gives him the extra boost he needs.

Thanks for the referrals to the chamber. This has been a lot of fun. Make sure to read the quote on the attached photo.

Have a great weekend,

Dr. Matt Freedman
